| Cash Out                                  | Means the feature that we may offer at our sole discretion, which permits you to get back the real money bet you have placed before the relevant event which you have bet on has finished. The amount you will receive is determined at the time the relevant bet is 'cashed-out'. For further information please see Section 2 below.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Dead Heat Rule                            | <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. This rule applies where two or more selections which you have had the opportunity to bet on, have finished in the same position, drawn or tied (as applicable). The number of selections which you have had the opportunity to bet on who finish in the same position, drawn or tied (as applicable) will determine your return with respect to such bet. In such event, your bet will be settled at the full odds but your stake will be divided by the number of selections which you have opportunity to bet on, which have finished in the same position, drawn or tied (as applicable).</li><li>2. By way of example only,</li><li>3. Customer A bets on Sergio Agüero for 100 Euros at 2.5 to be the top scorer in the Premier League</li><li>4. Customer B bets on Marcus Rashford for 150 Euros at 21.0 to be to be the top scorer in the Premier League</li><li>5. Customer C bets on Sadio Mané for 200 Euros at 6.0 the top scorer in the Premier League</li></ol> |

| Live Betting, Live or In-Play | Means any occurrence where you are provided the opportunity to place a bet on a match or event after it has started and while it is in progress.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Push Rules                    | Means when you have placed a bet on a Spread, Margin or Handicap and your bet ends in a tie when the spread, margin or handicap is taken into account and no tie option was available to place a bet on. Your stake will be returned in this case.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Regular Time and Full Time    | Means the time period of an event, match or game (as applicable) which the relevant governing association, body or organization defines the length of an event, match or game (as applicable). By way of example, in football (soccer) this means 90 minutes plus Injury Time. This does not include any extra time, overtime or anything analogous thereto, unless we detail otherwise. If the relevant governing association, body or organization determines prior to the relevant event, match or game (as applicable) that such will be played of a different length of time this will be the official duration. |
| Rules                         | Shall have the meaning given to it in the Introduction Section.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Site                          | Means www.mrgreen.com and its related mobile application                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Syndicate Betting             | Means where you place a series of bets on the same event, tournament or competition (as applicable) in conjunction with other players. This type of "Bet" is considered by us to be an act of fraud. Where we have any evidence whatsoever of such, we may void any related bets                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

|                                  | and withhold any payment from us to you in relation to such bet until we have completed our investigations.                                                |
| Walk Over                 | Means the awarding of a victory to a contestant because there are no other contestants, or the other contestants have been disqualified or have forfeited. |
| "you", "your" or "member" | Shall have the meaning given to it in the Introduction Section                                                                                             |

1. Acceptance, Cancellation or Voidance of Your Bet

Bet Acceptance

1.1. How you can view your bet

When your bet is accepted by us, it will appear in your Bet History. To find your Bet History through your personal computer or mobile device, you must log into your Mr Green account and click on the "View Betting History" Tab in the "My Account" section. In any event that there is a conflict between what is shown in your "View Betting History" and our servers, our servers will take precedence.

1.2. If your bet is accepted by us, you will not be able to cancel such bet.

Voiding of any Bet

1.3. A bet made by you can be voided by us, and in such case, we will return to you, your stake placed on such bet.

1.4. In the event you place a bet as part of an Accumulator, and any match or event which is part of such Accumulator is cancelled, your bet will not be voided by us.

1.5. We may withhold payment of any winnings to you and/or void any bet or any part of a bet whether before or after bet settlement, which is in any way related to: (1) an Error; (2) Influence Betting; (3) the integrity of the event is called into question for any reason whatsoever; (4) event rigging; (5) any public announcement materially changes the odds or offer we provide you with; (6) price or pool has been manipulated; (7) Syndicate Betting; or (8) any criminal activity whatsoever has affected the result or any occurrence in any manner whatsoever.

1.6. We may void any or all of the Accumulator Bet placed by you, if we deem that any of the selections in your bet are in any way related (also known as a related contingency), by way of example only, you bet on Liverpool to win the game and Mohammed Sala to score in such game.

1.7. We may void a bet with respect to any "pre-match betting" if you place a bet after the relevant event has begun.

1.8. We may void a bet with respect to Live Betting: (1) if any bet is placed at the wrong odds or incorrect price due to the live coverage being faulty, hindered or delayed in any way; (2) if any bet is placed on an event which has already occurred; (3) if any bet is placed after an event which in any way can be considered as contributing to the result of an event that has occurred or is occurring; or (4) if the odds offered on the Site relates to a score on the Site which differs from the result at such time provided by the relevant governing association, body or organisation.

1.9. We may void a bet placed on a segment of the event, if such event (as applicable) is: (1) played in a different format with regards to time than that detailed in the relevant bet; or (2) if played in any other format than the one detailed in the offer.

1.10. We may void any Grand Salami bet, if the relevant match, event or round (as applicable) is not completed. The foregoing shall not apply to any bets related to results prior to the abandonment of the relevant event or round (as applicable) which could in no way have been affected regardless of any future occurrence and such bets will be settled by us according to the result.

1.11. We may void any bet on a Quarter or Half or Period if the event takes place in different manner than the one which we detail on the offer to you.

1.12. We may void a bet on a 'Race To' bet (or similar), in the event that the listed score has not occurred during the stipulated period, unless we detail otherwise.

1.13. We may void a bet with respect to a Winner of a Point of or Scorer of a Goal, in the event that the relevant occurrence has not occurred within the specified timeframe, unless we detail otherwise.

1.14. We may void any bet which relates to an occurrence materialising during a period determined by us (for example 'Next Team to have a player sent off') should it not be possible, without any reasonable doubt, to decide the correct outcome. By way of example only, following a foul being given and prior to the free kick being taken two players are sent off, one from each team.

1.15. We may void any bet which relates to Team to Score First and Win, if no goals are scored in such match.

1.16. We may void any bet with regards to a match or event (as applicable) which does not take place or if a match or event (as applicable) is determined by a Walk Over.

1.17. We may void any bet with respect to Group Betting: (1) if all listed participants in the relevant event do not start such event; or (2) at least one participant from the list we provide you to bet on does not finish the relevant event and the relevant governing body, association or organisation does not provide any tie-breaking conditions or procedures.

1.18. We may void any bet with respect to a Head to Head bet which relates to the performance of two or three participants, if all the participants from the list we provide with respect to such event do not start such event.

1.19. We may void your bet if any offer which specifically relates to one or more participants performance with respect to a particular event or competition (as applicable) if such participant or participants (as applicable) does not take part in such event or competition (as applicable). The foregoing may relate to a bet such as a player's performance against the field.

1.20. During specific events, we may decide to offer for betting a reduced selection of participants and might also include betting options such as "any other", "the field", or similar. This option includes all unlisted participants except for the ones mentioned specifically as available.

1.21. We may void your bet if your bet is placed on a To Qualify offer which at the time of bet placement required just one round or stage (as applicable and inclusive of any additional time or events, as applicable) for the relevant participant to advance to the next round or stage (as applicable) if such stage or round (as applicable) has not been irrevocably concluded within 36 hours of its listed beginning.

1.22. Any bet which relates to an aggregate amount of occurrences by a participant in a team sport, with regards to the relevant tournament or competition (as applicable), will only take into account the occurrences whilst participant is playing in the relevant tournament or competition (as applicable). (this does not include any post season games, play offs or play outs).

1.23. When betting is offered on whether a participant will continue to hold a specific job description, title or position (as applicable) until a specific date or for a specific period of time (whether in politics, sport or any other field), such participant will need to hold such position continuously from when the bet is placed by you until the end of the relevant period.

By way of example only, with respect to an offer which states that Bruno Le Maire will be the Minister of the Economy and Finance of France on 31 January 2050, Bruno Le Maire must continually be the Minister of the Economy and Finance of France from the date on which you place your bet until 31 January 2050 (so if Bruno Le Maire resigns and is reappointed to such post you will lose your bet).

1.24. With respect to a Half Time bet or Full Time bet, we will void such bet if the regular time of the match is played in a different time format than the one detailed in the offer.

1.25. We may void a bet before or after bet settlement.

1.26. If we have any evidence whatsoever of any account holder acting in conjunction with another account holder, we may void the applicable bets, withhold any winnings and/or stakes whilst we investigate such matter. Depending on our conclusion with respect of such investigations we may void the applicable bets, withhold any winnings and/or stakes.

2. Our Cash Out Feature

2.1. We may provide you with the opportunity to Cash Out your bet which has not been settled and if your bet is cashed out, no further events or occurrences (as applicable) related to such bet shall apply.

By way of example only, if you place a bet of 10 Euros on the double of Everton (6/4 or 2.5) and Brighton (1/2 or 1.5) to win. Brighton win, and the Everton game is about to kick off. The Cash Out function is available and the Cash Out on offer is 24 Euros. If you Cash Out at such point in time you guarantee yourself a profit, even if Everton lose. The 24 Euros is credited to your account, without the Everton match being played.

2.2. We are not obligated in any manner to provide you with the option to Cash Out your bet (even if we have done so in the past).

2.3. If a Cash Out is accepted by us when the result of the respective bet has already been determined, we reserve the right to void the Cash Out. We also reserve the right to void and reclaim any Cash Out where there is indication for abuse of the Cash Out feature.

2.4. Your Cash Out may be subject to delay including without limitation as a result of a manual delay. If during any such delay, we cease providing the offer or the odds change to which your Cash Out relates, your Cash Out request will be rejected.

2.5. If your bet is placed with a Free Bet Token, your Cash Out value will be the current value of the amount you can cash out minus the Free Bet Token amount.

2.6. We may withdraw or suspend Cash Out offers at any time.

3. Bet Types

We may provide with the opportunity to place the following types of bets:

| Type of Bet                           | Explanation                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|-----------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Accumulator Bet, Accumulator or Parlay       | Means a bet which combines four or more selections into a single bet. You will only win such bet, if all of your selections win.                                                                                                                                                  |
| Asian Handicap, Asian Spread or Asian Margin | An Asian Handicap, Asian Spread or Asian Margin is a type of Handicap (for an explanation of what is a Handicap please see below) where the selections are handicapped according to their form. This means that one participant is effectively given a head start before the game |

|                                        | commences. Favourites are indicated by the (-) sign and underdogs/outsidere with a (+): By way of example only, with respect to a game played by Liverpool and West Ham. The Asian Handicap would be: Liverpool (-1.5), West Ham (+1.5), in this scenario Liverpool need to win by two goals or more for you to win your bet. If Liverpool don't win by two or more goals, you will lose your bet and those account holders who backed West Ham to get within 1.5 goals of Liverpool will win. Note, there are only two results as the draw result is eliminated. |
| Correct Score or Result Betting | This gives you the opportunity of betting on the exact score as at the end of the match, tournament or event (as applicable) or at the end of a pre-defined period during such match, tournament, or event (as applicable).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Draw No Bet                     | This type of bet removes the outcome of a tie on three-way markets. This type of bet also applies in three way offers where we do not offer odds on a tie. | Match, 1x2 or Home Draw Away | This gives you the opportunity of betting on the outcome as at the end of the match, tournament or event (as applicable) or at the end of a pre-defined period during such match, tournament or event (as applicable). You will be provided with three different options: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Home team/Player 1 or the participant listed on the left side of the offer;</li> <li>b. Which equates to a tie or a tie or the selection in the middle; and</li> <li>c. Away team or Player 2, or the participant listed to the right side of the offer.</li> </ul> |
| Odd/Even                     | This provides you with the opportunity of betting on a predefined odd or even occurrence at the end of a pre-defined period during such match, tournament or event. Zero will be deemed to be an even number.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Outright or Place            | This provides you with the opportunity of betting on a selection winning or finishing in a specified place (but not necessarily winning). For example, on golf events we may offer you the chance to bet on players finishing inside the top five or ten. For horse racing we will commonly offer the first three places, but this varies depending on the field size.                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Over/Under or Total          | This gives you the opportunity to be on a predefined amount of events or occurrences in an match, tournament or event (as applicable). For example: Over/Under 2.5 goals. For an Over bet to win there must be 3 or more goals in the relevant match. For Under 2.5 goals to win there must be two or less goals in the relevant match. Over/Under or Totals can also be three way. If no draw option is provided for you to bet on, and the result lands on the exact amount, your stake will be returned.                                                                                    |
| Period Betting               | This provides you with the opportunity of betting on each separate period during an event, tournament or match (as applicable).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |

4. Settlement of Results

General Rules

4.1. We aim to settle bets as quickly as possible, however in some instances, there may be a delay whilst we wait for confirmation of the results or occurrence. Our Settlement of bets will be based on sources available to us including without limitation through the television, streaming as well as the websites of the governing association, body or organization (as applicable).

4.2. Subject to the rest of the Rules, settlement of bets will happen after the relevant event, match or tournament (as applicable) ends and the result is known. Any changes to the result after the original result published by the relevant governing association, body or organisation will not be taken into account.

4.3. Where we determine that the rules governing your bet are unclear or insufficient, we may settle any bet taking into account what is generally accepted betting norms, customs and definitions.

Abandoned Events

4.4. All bet offers that have been determined irrevocably prior to the abandonment of an event and could not possibly be altered regardless of future events, will be settled according to the decided outcome.

4.5. We may void any bet if an event or competition (as applicable) does not begin within 24 hours from the official start time as last issued by the governing association, body or organisation (as applicable). The foregoing shall not apply to an event or competition (as applicable) whose start time not been issued by the relevant governing body, association or organisation (as applicable) at the time which you place the relevant bet and any bets placed will not be voided by us and will remain in effect until the relevant event or competition (as applicable) takes place.

4.6. If an event has been abandoned prior to the events ordinary conclusion (for example with regards to a domestic league football match, the two halves of such match being completed) and the governing association, body or organisation (as applicable) provides a result with respect to such event within 24 hours of the events start, we will use such decision to settle your bet with respect to the events outcome (for example Double Chance, Draw, Match and No Bet) as long the decision provided by the governing association, body or organisation (as applicable) does not alter the outcome of such bets at the time the relevant event was abandoned. If the outcome of such bets are altered, we will refund your stake. All offers relating to a number of occurrences happening (for example with respect to American Football, how many penalties being awarded), will be voided by us, however such will not apply if with respect to any outcomes which have been irrevocably determined prior to the abandonment of the relevant event and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.

5. Additional Rules

5.1. We may at any time suspend all or any betting activity. For example, if we're having technical difficulties, we may take down some and/or all betting opportunities.

5.2. Unless otherwise stated by us, with respect to an Outright or Place bet, we will not refund any bets relating to a participant or outcome (as applicable) which is connected to a particular participant or outcome should the participant not take part in such event or the outcome does not occur. We reserve the right to apply Rule 4 (Non Horse Racing and Non Greyhounds), on any offer that is not related to horse racing or greyhound racing and this will be stated in the bet offer or the Sport Specific Rules.

5.3. No refunds of bets will apply, even if the winning outcome of an event, match or tournament (as applicable) is an outcome which includes a participant that has not been listed for betting purposes.

5.4. We will not make any changes to any previous result (even if such result is affected by the following), if a participant in any event is disqualified, does not participate or is banned (as applicable) from taking part in the next round or part (as applicable) in any event or competition (as applicable). The disqualification, withdrawal or banning (as applicable) will be deemed to take effect from the point in time from when such participant was stopped from taking part in the event or competition (as applicable).

5.5. Any bet which relates to classification on a certain date, will be settled despite changes in any event or rounds or events played as (applicable). By way of example only, if you bet on Liverpool to be top of the Premier League on January 1st and Manchester City are top of the Premier League having played more games than Liverpool you will still lose your bet.

5.6. With regards to any Head to Head bet, your stake will be returned to your account if the Head to Head bet is between two participants and such participants have the same position or score or are eliminated at exactly the same stage. The foregoing shall not apply if the applicable governing, association, organisation or body (as applicable) implements a tie breaking procedure.

5.7. With regards to any Head to Head bet where the number of participants is three and there is more than one winning result, the Dead heat Rules will apply. This may result in your winnings being less than the stake placed on such bet.

5.8. With regards to any Head to Head bet relating to a different round or stage (as applicable) of an event, all participants must take part in the impending round or stage (as applicable) for bets to stand.

5.9. If an event has any pre-qualification stage or round (as applicable) in relation to such event and you bet on a participant who fails to qualify from such pre-qualification such participant will be considered to have lost to any person who has already qualified or has succeeded in qualifying and you will lose your bet.

5.10. If an event is postponed or moved (as applicable) within a tournament and your bet requires any participant or participants (as applicable) to complete two or greater stages in order to advance in such tournament, as long as the postponed or moved event (as applicable) is held during the relevant tournament your bet will still be considered valid.

5.11. Any references to home team or away team is a reference to the team actually playing at home and away as determined by the official association, body or organization (as applicable) . At times we may display the bet on offer to you as you would find it in America, with the away team playing at the home team. For example, the Baltimore Ravens at the Dallas Cowboys (Baltimore Ravens @ Dallas Cowboys) means that Dallas Cowboys are the home team and the Baltimore Ravens are the away team.

5.12. If you bet on an event which is played at a neutral venue such bet will still stand whether or not we have provided such information in the relevant offer or how the teams are displayed on the Site.

5.13. We will not void your bet, if an event or match (as applicable) is moved from the ground originally designated or if there is a change to the surface that the event or match (as applicable) is to take place on. The foregoing will also not apply, if we state otherwise in the Sport Specific Rules or the event or match (as applicable) is moved to what is considered to be the home ground of the one of the teams.

5.14. We will not void your bet with regards to an event or match (as applicable) which is played a neutral ground. This will apply even in the event, that we have not provided you with details that the event or match (as applicable) is being played at a neutral ground or how the participants positioning are displayed on the Site.

5.15. Subject to Section 5.16, If there is an inconsistency on how the participants are displayed between the Site and the official website of the relevant governing association, body or organisation and such inconsistency effects the odds materially, we will void all bets which are affected by such. For example will void your bet if on the Premier League website the match is displayed as Liverpool v Manchester United (or anything analogous thereto) and the match is displayed on the Site as Manchester United v Liverpool.

5.16. Your bet will stand with respect to a bet placed on an event or match (as applicable) where the so-called home-field advantage has little or no outcome on the odds with respect to such bet and in cases of neutral venues which they are used for example to play Finals or Semi Final (as applicable) even if the location can be deemed as a potential customary "home" pitch for either of the teams involved.

5.17. In the event that a Final or Semi Final (as applicable) is held on one of the participants home ground this will still be considered as a neutral venue despite what is displayed on the on the official website of the governing association, body or organisation (as applicable) and how they are shown on the Site.

5.18. Information made available by us referring to the teams, their make-up, classification or designation should be considered by you as informational only. If such information is wrong or not included, we will not void your bet unless it makes a substantial difference to the odds offered.

5.19. We can't assure you that all parts of an offer are accurate or in the information on the Site, as for example there may be different interpretations to materials translated from different languages. Any differences which occur from translation may not lead us to voiding your bet.

5.20. Any bet which relates to an aggregate amount of occurrences by a participant in a team sport, with regards to a tournament or competition (as applicable), will only take into account the occurrences whilst the participant is playing in the relevant tournament or competition (as applicable).

5.21. If a bet relates to a period of time this means for example:

- Within the first ten minutes- this means between 0 seconds and 9 minutes and 59 seconds
- Between 18 minutes and 22 minutes- this means between 18 minutes and 0 seconds and 21 minutes and 59 seconds.

5.22. Unless detailed by us either in conjunction with the bet offer, or else in the Sport Specific Rules, bets referring to event or match (as applicable) duration which include decimals (such as .5) the relevant decimal must be completed for your bet to be won. By way of example only: (1) in Formula One race where a .5 duration is offered to bet on, with respect to how long a Formula One race will last Over/Under 75.5 minutes. Over would be 76 minutes or greater and Under would be 75:59 minutes or less; or (2) with respect to a boxing match, match where a .5 round duration is offered to bet on this differentiates between rounds, with respect to whether a boxing match is to last Over/Under 4.5 rounds, Over would be 5 rounds or greater and Under would be 4 rounds or less.

5.23. Unless we state otherwise, if you bet on a specific player to score one or more goals, such player's own goal will not count for such bet.

5.24. Medals won by a team or nation (as applicable) with respect to any event count as one medal.

5.25. With regards to any System Bet we may limit the number of combinations which you can choose.

5.26. Any reference to confederation, nationality or similar will be subject to the definition provided by the Site and not by the applicable governing association, body or organisation.

5.27. If any event officials have not officially recognized an occurrence, such occurrence shall not apply to your bet.

5.28. As a general rule, and unless we detail otherwise, we will settle offers based on an occurrence or outcome (as applicable), at the time that the game has been stopped. So for example in Rugby Union when a penalty kick is awarded and not when it is actually taken is used to settle your bet.

5.29. With respect to Period Betting, we will void your bet, if the Regular Time that a match is played is different to that listed in the offer.

5.30. Unless we detail otherwise, in the event that the governing association, body or organisation (as applicable) includes any extra rounds, match or matches (as applicable) following the conclusion of the regular season to determine the relevant classification or position (as applicable) (such as for example with regards to promotion, relegation), we will use the results and outcomes in such rounds, match or matches (as applicable) to settle the bet placed with regards to such classification or position.

6. Settlement on Certain Offers

6.1. We will settle the following bet types as follows:

6.2. With respect to bets such as "Man of the Match" and "Most Valuable Player", settlement of such bets will be based on the relevant competition organizer's determination unless we state otherwise.

6.3. Bets on player transfers will stand only if that player signs a contract with the new club. Loan deals do not count.

6.4. Any opportunity to bet on a: (1) participant attaining a certain occurrence against another individual or team; or (2) the classification on a certain date, will not be voided by us despite any changes to the number of games or rounds (as applicable).

6.5. Settlement of any bet which relates to a participant realizing an occurrence before another participant, is based on when the relevant occurrences materialized in the relevant events.

6.6. With respect to any Mythical, Virtual or Fantasy bets: We will settle such offers after the full round or event (as applicable) is complete. All offers must be settled on the same day as the round or event (as applicable) is scheduled to take place. If part of the offer is cancelled or rescheduled, then your bet will be made void. In all cases all bets are accepted based on the selection's next calendar event or round (as applicable). If any selection within the particular offer is settled as a Walk Over then your bet will be made void.

6.7. If we provide you with the opportunity of betting on a participant to attain or complete a certain accomplishment against another participant, we shall settle such bet on the point in time when the relevant accomplishment was attained or completed.

6.8. With respect to an Outright or Place bet where you are provided with the opportunity of a number of participants to bet on and you place a bet on a participant to 'win' or 'place' in a specified position, if two or more participants tie we will settle such bet in accordance with the applicable rules governing the "Win" and "Place" bets, in the Sport Specific Rules as well as the Dead Heat Rule.

6.9. Settlement of an Each Way, EW or E/W bet will be based on the applicable rules governing the win and place bets in the Sports Specific Rules as well as the Dead Heat Rule.

6.10. All offers which relate to: (1) solely one player's performance in a domestic league; or (2) Head to Head bets which relate to two players in a domestic league, will only take into account the regular season, so for example, no extra matches in any play-offs, post-season or anything similar to such will not be taken into account. This Section will not apply if we state to the contrary.

6.11. All offers which relate to: (1) any aggregate outcomes or occurrences (as applicable) in relation to a team's performance in a domestic league; (2) Head to Head bets with respect to two teams' performance in a domestic league; or (3) a cumulative domestic league performance, in settling your bet we will only take into account the regular season and will not take into account extra matches in any play-offs, post-season or anything similar to such. This Section will not apply if we state to the contrary.

6.12. With regards to bets placed on manager changes/moves. Joint managers/ will be settled under the Dead Heat Rule. Any bets inadvertently accepted after a move has already happened will be void.

6.13. Offers which relate to you placing a bet between two or more participants over a predefined period determined by us or over the course of a competition or event (as applicable) will be settled by us based on the result of the listed participants. We will not take into account any of the other participants who take part in the competition or event (as applicable).

7. Rule 4 (Non Horse Racing and Non Greyhounds)

7.1. This Section shall not apply to horse-racing and greyhounds.

7.2. In the event of one participant not taking part, the odds provided with respect to the remaining participants are reduced in accordance with this Rule 4 (Non Horse Racing and Non Greyhounds).

7.3. The odds provided with respect to the remaining participants are reduced because it becomes easier for the other participants to win - each participant will have one less participant to beat so it is more likely that it will win. Therefore an amount of money is taken out of winnings to balance the effect of the withdrawn participant.

7.4. If there are two or greater participants not taking part, the total reduction in the odds shall not exceed 75%. The deduction in such case will be based on the aggregate odds of the withdrawn participants.

A bet relating to a participant winning:

8. Disputes

8.1. For our dispute resolution mechanism please see the GTCs

8.2. We may suspend your account during and until any investigations we carry out are completed.

9. Disclaimer

9.1. IF YOU RECEIVE ANY WINNINGS OR BONUSES (OR ANY OTHER SIMILAR BENEFIT) ('BENEFITS") AS A RESULT OF ANY ERROR MADE BY US OR ON OUR BEHALF (WHETHER TECHNICAL OR MANUAL) IN CALCULATING, ALLOCATING OR DISTRIBUTING BENEFITS, WE MAY VOID THE BENEFITS AND, TO THE EXTENT THAT YOU HAVE ALREADY RECEIVED OR BEEN CREDITED WITH A PAYMENT IN RESPECT OF THE SAME, YOU WILL REPAY THAT AMOUNT TO US OR WE MAY DEDUCT IT FROM YOUR ACCOUNT.

9.2. THE INFORMATION CONTAINED ON THE SITE INCLUDING WITHOUT LIMITATION ANY STATISTICS MAY NOT BE UP TO DATE OR ERROR FREE AND WE ACCEPT NO LIABILITY IN SUCH REGARD.

9.3. For the avoidance of doubt, we do not take any liability for any mistake including without limitation as a result of an Error or the information on the Site is incomplete or inaccurate.

9.4. We may at any time withdraw any offer on the Site.

9.5. We may at any time edit the odds and make further changes we feel are required on the Site.

- 9.6. All the odds offered by us are offered on a dynamic basis and may be changed by us at any time. The bets which we accept are at the odds available on the Site at the time the bet was accepted by us irrespective of any other previous information made available, including without limitation on the Site or which is published in any media whatsoever (both online and off-line).
- 9.7. We shall not be liable to you, should the live score update not be correct on the Site.
- 9.8. We shall not be liable to you should you not be able to place any bet with the Site.
- 9.9. Any further events or occurrences (as applicable), will not apply to your bet once we have accepted your Cash Out request.
- 9.10. It is your responsibility to ensure that you are aware at all times of the circumstances relating to any and all events (for example the current score and time remaining in the game) and we shall have no liability to you in such regard even if such information can be found on the Site, this is especially relevant to Live Betting.
- 9.11. We may change the Live Betting schedule on the Site and we shall have no liability to you in such matters.
- 9.12. All bets placed with us through the Site may be subject to delays and we shall have no liability to you with respect to any such delay.
- 9.13. Any deadline for placing a bet is for informational purposes only.
- 9.14. In addition, we shall not be liable to you if you are unable to place a bet on Live Betting, the relevant Live Betting score has not been updated, any changes to the schedule or the interruption of the service.
- 9.15. If a Cash Out has experienced a technical error, pricing error or settlement error at any time we may correct such in accordance with the User Agreement.
- 9.16. We reserve the right to round up or round down percentages, units or other conditions which are vital for the settlement of a bet, in such cases we shall not be liable to you for any of your lost winnings or loss of stake.
- 9.17. We may modify or withdraw any offer at any time.

9.18. We may withhold payment to you or to declare bets void, if we believe that there is sufficient evidence that any of the following has occurred: (1) for whatever reason the integrity of the event has been called into question; (2) the price(s) or pool has been manipulated; (3) any match rigging has taken place; or (4) or the match is under investigation for match rigging.

9.19. The information on the Site is for informational purposes only. We accept no liability if such information is incorrect, incomplete or is not accurate.

9.20. We may at any time suspend any or all betting activity.

10. Betting Limits and Pay Out Limits

10.1. We may at any time, prior to a bet being placed by you, limit the amount of winnings (excluding stake) that you will receive if the bet is successful.

10.2. We may also impose additional limits on the bets that you may place (for example by limiting: (1) the type or category of bet you may place; (2) the total amounts you may stake or size of each stake you may place; or (3) the events you may bet on) ('Pre-Imposed Personal Limits'). For more information on Pre-Imposed Personal Limits please see 'section 12' within these terms.

10.3. In addition to the Pre-Imposed Personal Limits, the Maximum Payout Limits (which can be found in section 12) apply to any winnings from a successful bet.

10.4. Please note that the Pre-Imposed Personal Limits which we may place on your account may result in your winnings being limited to a lower amount than the Maximum Pay Out Limits.

10.5. If a Pre-Imposed Personal Limit has been reached and you wish to increase it, you can contact us via Live Chat. It will be at our sole discretion whether to answer, accept or reject any such request by you.

10.6. We may at any time set or modify Pre-Imposed Personal Limits and/or Maximum Payout Limits (but in doing so this will not affect any bets already placed by you prior to such change).

11. Pay Outs

11.1. Odds may be displayed in different ways on the Site. In the event that you are to be paid out with respect to your bet, we will determine your pay out solely on the basis of decimal odds despite any other format (for example fractional) in which the bet is displayed in or which has been selected when the relevant bet has been placed.

11.2. Pay outs will be based on two decimal places and we will round down such player's winnings to the nearest ore. So, for example if you win Euros 4.096, you will receive Euros 4.09.

12. Maximum Pay out Limits

12.1 The winnings (excluding stakes) that you receive from successful bets settled during a single calendar day are subject to the following limits:

- those limits set out in the table below that apply depending on the event that you bet on (the 'Sports-Specific Maximum Payout Limits'); and
- a daily overall limit of £250,000 (the 'General Maximum Payout Limit').

12.2 On this page, the Sports-Specific Maximum Payout Limits and General Maximum Payout Limit are collectively referred to as the 'Maximum Payout Limits'.

12.3 We will apply the Maximum Payout Limits to the winnings that you receive during the calendar day in the territory in which your account is registered.

12.4 In addition to the Maximum Payout Limits, we may impose additional limits on any bet or on any combination of bets which you place ('Pre-Imposed Personal Limits') for example, according to: (i) the type of bet you place; (ii) the category of bet which you place (on different sports such limit may be lower); or (iii) on the league, tournament, championship or event on which you place your bet.

12.5 Please note that the Pre-Imposed Personal Limits which we place on your bets or account may be lower than those Maximum Pay Out Limits.

- 12.6 Any winnings above the relevant Maximum Payout Limit or Pre-Imposed Personal Limits will not be due or payable to you.
  - 12.7 The Maximum Payout Limits and Pre-Imposed Personal Limits apply to a single bet or to a combination of bets which you place including without limitation with respect to an Accumulator Bet.
  - 12.8 The Maximum Payout Limits and the Pre-Imposed Personal Limits applies to both to you individually or a group of end users acting together.
  - 12.9 The Maximum Payout Limits and Pre-Imposed Personal Limits still apply, will still apply, even if by accepting your bet, the level of potential winnings exceeds these amounts.
- 13 Should you place a bet made up of a combination of bets on different events or categories which have different Sports-Specific Maximum Payout Limits and/or Pre-Imposed Personal Limits, the lowest applicable Sports-Specific Maximum Payout Limit and/or Pre-Imposed Personal Limits will apply. For the avoidance of doubt your winnings will always be subject to the General Maximum Payout Limit.
- 14 Other than where specifically stated otherwise below, all Sports-Specific Maximum Payout Limits apply to the aggregate of winnings of all bets settled in a single day (rather than on a per-bet basis).

ATHLETICS INCLUDING THE OLYMPIC GAMES AND CHAMPIONSHIPS

- Your bets on Athletics are determined on the basis of the official result listed by the relevant governing body, association or organisation following the final conclusion of the relevant race or competition (as applicable).
- Despite the bullet point above, we will resettle your bet, in the event that the applicable governing body, association or organisation changes its original official result within 24 hours following the end of such race or competition (as applicable). Such change to the original official result must be attributable to an incident or incidents which have occurred during the relevant race or competition (as applicable). For the avoidance of doubt, any cases of doping or alleged doping following the expiration of the 24 hour period, will not affect the result.
- With respect to the Olympics and World Athletics Championships, if you bet on an athlete winning a medal, your bet will be settled on the official result of the applicable governing association, body or organization, following the final stage of the competition or race (as applicable), unless we state otherwise.
- If any athlete false starts a race or event (as applicable) and as a result is disqualified, such athlete will still be considered to have participated in such race or event (as applicable).

AUSTRALIAN RULES FOOTBALL

- If you place a bet with respect to a match and such match is played at a different venue, your bet will still stand.
- Your bet with regards to any match, will be settled in accordance with the result at the end of the fourth Quarter including any Time On- the portion of each quarter allocated for extra play which could not occur due to time being stopped, unless we detail otherwise.
- Other than with respect to a Head to Head bet, we will void your bet, in the event of a tie at the end of the match or at the end of a predefined period which you have bet on (as applicable).
- In the event that any additional match(es) is/are required to be played to facilitate the final classification, any such additional match(es) will determine the outcome of your bet.
- With regards to any bet which you make, which compares the performance of two or more participants over a predetermined period in a match or competition (as applicable), elimination within any stages of the Finals, will count for your bet's settlement.

- For bet settlement purposes, in the event that two teams are eliminated at the same stage of the predetermined period or competition (as applicable), the determining factor as to who has reached the higher position, will be the team that finished ahead on the AFL Ladder at the end of the regular season (i.e. before the Finals Series).

BASEBALL

- Unless otherwise detailed by us, we will settle your bet on the official result and the official statistics (as applicable) which includes any extra innings played. The official result and statistics (as applicable) will be that which is provided by the relevant governing body, association or organisation (as applicable) for example, the MLB.
- In the instance of a game which is postponed or cancelled, we will void your bet as long as the first official pitch with respect to such game has not been thrown.
- In the instance that the official result has not been published within 12 hours of when the relevant game was supposed to have begun, we will void your bet with respect to such game.
- Listed Pitcher: Both scheduled starting pitchers must start the game for your bet to stand.

BASKETBALL

- Unless otherwise detailed by us, your bet will be settled on the official result and statistics (as applicable) which includes any overtime. The official result and statistics (as applicable) will be that which is provided by the relevant governing body, association or organisation (as applicable) for example, the NBA.
- If your bet relates to aggregated Tournament Totals (such as for example, Total Points, Total Rebounds, Total Player Steals and Total Player Turnovers), your bet will be settled based on official statistics provided by the relevant governing body, association or organization (as applicable). Unless otherwise detailed by us, your aggregated bet will include any overtime.
- Your bet with respect to the Conference Winner (for example NBA Eastern Conference Title Winner) and Tournament Winner (for example NBA championship winners) (as applicable) will be settled following the relevant conference game in the play offs or NBA championship series. For the avoidance of doubt, the rankings in each conference at the end of the regular season will not count towards any bet made in relation to the Conference Winner or Tournament Winner (as applicable).
- In the event of a play-off game being suspended for any reason and resumed within 24 hours of the original scheduled tip off, then your bet will stand and shall be settled on the official game result. If the suspended game does not resume within 24 hours of the original tip off, we shall void your bet.

BOXING AND MMA (MIXED MARTIAL ARTS)

- Your bet will be settled according to the official result declared by the official governing body, organisation or association (as applicable) immediately after the end of the fight as declared by the ring announcer. Any subsequent appeals or amendments to the result will not be taken into account for your bet settlement purposes.
- Technical Draw or No Contest decision: We will void your bet in such instance unless the outcome has been irrevocably determined prior to the abandonment of the relevant fight or tournament (as applicable) and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.
- For a fight to be declared as having been decided by "points", all scheduled rounds of the fight must be completed in full. All other decisions (e.g. Knock Out ("KO"), Technical Knock Out ("TKO"), withdrawal, submission, disqualification, failure to answer the bell, clash of heads, low blow, etc.) will be settled as if the boxer has won the fight.
- For the purposes of settling your bet a KO and TKO will include a disqualification of a fighter or boxer (as applicable) and the retirement of a fighter or boxer.
- If a fight is stopped in between rounds, for your bet settlement the fight will be deemed to have been completed in the previous round. For example, if a boxer fails to get off his stool for the fifth round, the fight will have deemed to have been completed at the end of the fourth round.

CRICKET

General Cricket Rules

- If the cricket match ends in a draw and we have offered no odds with respect to a draw, the Dead Heat Rule will apply if we detail so.
- Other than with respect to a Test Match, if the cricket match ends in a draw and is determined by additional play such as by way of a Super Over, your bet will be settled by us on the result at the end of the additional play.

- If a bowler bowls a wide, all extra runs taken from the wide delivery count. For example, if the delivery goes for 4 and is scored as 5 wides, the delivery will count as 5 for bet settlement purposes rather than 1 wide delivery bowled.

All Limited Overs Cricket

- The terms in this section will apply to all Limited Overs Cricket (for example the Big Bash, One Day internationals, One Day games in domestic leagues and Twenty20 games), and in the event of a conflict with the General Cricket Rules above, these rules shall govern.
- Should a match be played on a "reserve" day, your bet will remain valid.
- Any other betting on the match (example High Bats, Most Sixes, Batting & Bowling Head to Heads etc.) will not include any outcomes deriving after any additional play takes place such as for example a Super Over.

| Winning Margin | We will void your bet if it has not been settled in the event that the number of scheduled overs is reduced for either team in any manner whatsoever.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |

Test Matches/First Class Matches (including domestic cricket e.g. Sheffield Shield)

- In the event of a conflict with the General Cricket Rules above, these rules shall govern.

- We will void your bet if the match is announced as abandoned by the relevant governing association, body or organisation for any reason whatsoever. The foregoing will not apply to your bet for which the outcome has been irrevocably determined prior to the abandonment of the relevant match and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.

CURLING

Unless we detail otherwise, your bet will be settled based on the result of any additional ends.

CYCLING AND CYCLO CROSS

- We will settle your bets on the basis of the relevant rider or relevant team (as applicable) having the best finishing position at the culmination of the relevant stage or event (as applicable).
- Your bet will be settled based on the placing provided by the relevant body, organization or association (as applicable) when the podium presentation takes place.
- For Stage betting, the stage must be completed in full for your bet to stand. In the event of a stage cancellation, or an abandonment midway through a stage, all bets on that stage will be made void.
- If you place a bet which relies on an event being concluded in full, if the full number of stages for such event is not concluded in full or if the relevant body, association or organization removes stages from the calculation of the result for such event, we will void your bet. We will not void your bet: (i) if the result has been irrevocably determined; or (ii) if the number of stages removed does not exceed 25% of the scheduled number of stages scheduled at the beginning of the event (excluding any prologue).
- We may void your bet if the applicable stage or event is not held in the same calendar year, unless the relevant governing association, body or organisation has rescheduled such stage or event (as applicable) in the following calendar year.
- If you place any performance related bet with respect to a stage and the route of a stage is amended, we will not void such bet. The foregoing will not apply when the relevant governing body, organization or association changes a stage which has certain characteristics such as a mountain stage, prior to such stage beginning, to a stage which has other certain characteristics such as a low-lying stage or time trial. In such case, your performance related bet which has been placed prior to the announcement of the amending of the stage will be voided by us.

- With respect your bet relating to the performance of a team or rider (as applicable) in an event (such as Will rider x gain the yellow jacket?) or a "Head to Head" bet offers involving two riders or two teams (as applicable) in an event occurrences in the: Prologue and/or Team Time Trial will not count towards the settlement of your bet, unless we detail otherwise.

- Unless we state otherwise, all bets will relate to Regular Time including any injury time and does not include any extra time and penalty shootouts. Please note that if the applicable governing association, body or organisation determines prior to the relevant event beginning that a different duration of the relevant match is to take place, this will apply to your bet.
- All bets will be settled based on official results supplied by the relevant league's governing association, body or organisation as applicable, unless we state otherwise.
- For any Errors including without limitation that in pricing, we reserve the right to void any bets placed at that erroneous price.
- In the event of a match being postponed, all bets will be void unless the match is completed within 48 hours of the original scheduled start time.
- If any individual selection is void, or a player in the bet does not take any part in the match, then we will void your whole bet.
- A penalty is never considered to be a free-kick.
- If a penalty is taken and then retaken, the result of the retaken penalty will be used to settle your bet and not the original penalty.
- Cards received prior to the relevant match's start, at half time, after the relevant match and in extra time do not count.
- Only cards received by players playing on the pitch count.
- Cards received by a substitute, manager or coaching staff do not count.

Rules For Non Bet Builder Football Bets

- Unless we detail otherwise, all bets will relate to Regular Time including any injury time and does not include any extra time and penalty shootouts. Please note that if the applicable governing association, body or organisation determines prior to the relevant event beginning that a different duration of the relevant match is to take place, this will apply to your bet.
- Unless we detail otherwise, all bets will be settled based on official results supplied by the relevant governing association, body or organisation as applicable, unless we state otherwise.
- Unless we detail otherwise, if your bet relates to a particular team winning a number/selection of trophies in the same season settlement will be based on the particular team's performance within the following competitions: the domestic league, the apparent equivalent of the respective FA Cup and League Cup as well as the Champions League or Europa League. Other trophies (e.g. domestic and European Super Cup, World Club Cup) do not count.
- Own goals will never count for a selected player unless the bet offer details otherwise.
- If you bet on yellow and/or red cards received or a points related bet, only cards shown to a player who is playing on the pitch at the point the card is shown will count. Any disciplinary action taken which includes without limitation any cards received or suspensions imposed on any player who is not playing on the pitch and any disciplinary action taken before or after the game will not apply.
- If you bet on any disciplinary action taken against a person which includes without limitation any cards received or fouls, this requires the players which you have the opportunity to bet on, to participate on the pitch in the relevant match otherwise your bet will be void.
- The term "Domestic Double" means a team winning the domestic league and the FA Cup or the equivalent of such in a different country.
- When a participant is not offered for you to bet on, you may contact us via Live Chat, it shall be at our sole discretion whether to answer, accept or reject any such request by you.

- Any bet based on a player's performance will be voided by us if the player is not listed to start the game or is a substitute but does not get substituted onto the pitch.
- A penalty is never considered to be a free-kick.
- If a penalty retaken, the result of the retaken penalty will be used to settle your bet.

Football Rules: eSoccer

Abandoned and Postponed matches

General Rules

- Bets placed on eSoccer are subject to the overall betting rules of the site.
- Match clocks and scoreboards are for display purposes only.
- Team names are displayed in the following format, incorporating the selected team and the player controlling them:
  - 1 - Selected Team (e.g. Bayern Munich)
  - 2 - Player's Name (e.g. Mosquito)
  - This will then display on the site as 'Bayern Munich (Mosquito)'

Postponed matches

- Should a match/event be postponed or delayed until a later time/date, all bets placed on these events will stand.
- If an event/match is cancelled, all bets placed on all markets will be made void.

Abandoned matches

- Should a match be abandoned for any reason (e.g. accidental disconnection) EXCEPT a 'Rage Quit', then:
- For Pre-Match bets: This match won't be considered valid for settling purposes.
  - All pre-match bets will be settled according to the results of the first fully completed match.
  - If after an abandonment the match isn't replayed, those markets where a winning result has been established will be settled and all other markets will be voided.

- For In-Play bets: Markets where a winning result has been established will be settled and all other markets will be made void.

FIFA 'Rage Quit' Rule

- If there's clear evidence of a match being ended due to a 'Rage Quit' by one of the participants, the match will be awarded to the team which was leading at the point of the deliberate disconnection.
- Match Result, Match Betting Live, To Qualify and To Qualify Live will all be settled according to the result at the time of the 'Rage Quit'.
- Other markets where a winning selection has been established will also be settled as normal for both pre-match and in-play, all other markets will be made void.
- The 3-0 default score line isn't relevant for settlement purposes.

eSports - FIFA Tournaments (8/10/12 Minutes)

Full-Time Result (including 1st Half Betting)

Market description: Predict the result of a match (or half) from: home win | draw | away win, sometimes denoted on our website/coupons as 1 | X | 2.

- The terms normal time, full time, and the relevant time of play (e.g. 10 minutes, 12 minutes) are all used to denote the period of play.
1. Bets are settled on the events that occur in normal time.
    - This includes any injury/stoppage time added on at the end of normal time.
  2. Extra time or any means used to determine a result after normal time i.e. extra time won't count unless the bet has been placed in the market 'Match Betting Including Extra Time'.

3. When a match is scheduled to play for a shorter duration, as agreed by the laws of the competition or by both sides prior to kick-off, bets placed on these matches will be settled at the end of the agreed match length.
4. Settlement will occur in real time, based on the feed from our service providers.

Total Goals Over/Under (including 1st Half Betting)

Market description: Predict whether the number of goals scored in a match (or half) will be over/under the number specified.

- If the market is under/over 2.5 goals:
  - Under means 0, 1 or 2 goals
  - Over means 3 goals or more
1. Bets are settled on the events that occur in normal time.
    - This includes any injury/stoppage time added on at the end of normal time.
  2. Extra time doesn't count.
  3. Settlement will occur in real time, based on the feed from our service providers.

Next Goal (Numbered)

Market description: Predict which team will score the next goal. The goal in brackets indicates the goal number.

- For example, 'Next Goal (4)' is the market for which team will score the 4th goal of the game.
1. Bets are settled on events that occur in normal time.
    - This includes any injury/stoppage time added on at the end of normal time.
  2. Extra time doesn't count.
  3. Settlement will occur in real time, based on the feed from our service providers.

GOLF

- Your bet will remain valid as long as the relevant round or tournament bet on by you, is played within the same calendar year, unless other arrangements have been instituted by the relevant governing association, body or organization with respect to the applicable round or tournament being played in the next calendar year.
- If in any tournament there is a play-off instituted by the relevant governing association, body or organization, the result of such play-off will apply to us settling your bet.
- Your bet will be a losing bet, if you bet on a golfer and such golfer: (i) begins a tournament but then withdraws of their own volition; or (ii) is disqualified from the tournament. The foregoing will not apply to your bet if such bet has been irrevocably determined prior to (i) or (ii) occurring and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.
- Any reference to "Men's Major Golf Championships", "Major Championships" or the "Majors" will be to those tournaments which are assigned by the PGA such designation during the then-current season, notwithstanding any change of venue, date, or other changes.
- Irrevocably-decided bet offers will be considered as valid bets even if 36 holes are not played and/or the relevant governing association, body or organisation has not issued an official result.

MOTORSPORT (OTHER THAN SPEEDWAY)

- These rules apply to motor racing such as: (i) A1 GP; (ii) CART; (iii) Circuit Racing; (iv) Deutsche Tourenwagen Masters; (v) Endurance Motor Racing; (vi) Formula 1; (vii) Indy Car; (viii) Motorcycling; (ix) NASCAR; (x) Rally; (xi) Rally-cross; (xii) Superbike; and (xiii) Touring cars.
- These rules shall not apply to Speedway. For offers relating to Speedway, please find the relevant rules here.
- Unless otherwise stated by us, your bet will be settled by us according to the classification and live timing broadcast on TV at the time of podium presentations, or at the end of the relevant session, race, or event (as may be applicable). If the relevant information is missing or incomplete, or not broadcast on TV at the time of the podium presentation, the official information which is first published on the official site of the applicable governing association, body or organisation will be deemed binding, regardless of any subsequent promotions, demotions, appeals and/or penalties that are imposed after the end of the session, race, or event to which the bet refers.
- If during any race qualifying session a time penalty is imposed by the relevant governing association, body or organisation, such will apply to your bet. Any other grid demotions or promotions will not apply with respect to your bet.
- In the event you bet on the performance of a team and any change in the drivers or riders (as applicable) participating for the team occurs, your bet will still stand.

- If a driver or rider (as applicable) with respect to a race or event (as applicable) suffers from a delayed start or starts from the pit lane, such driver or rider (as applicable) is deemed as having participated in the event or race (as applicable).
- If an event or race (as applicable) is reduced in scope (e.g. due to weather conditions or other events or situations), but such event or race (as applicable) is still deemed as an official event or race (as applicable) by the relevant governing body, association or organisation, such race or event (as applicable) will be deemed to have taken place. The foregoing will apply, even if there are any changes made by the relevant governing body, association or organisation due to the race or event (as applicable) not being completed as originally planned.
- Settlement of any Outright offer in a particular market will be based on the classification issued immediately following completion of the last race of the season and will include any decisions made by the governing association, body or organisation during the season and prior to the last race. Any decision (even an appeal of a prior decision) made by the relevant governing association, body or organisation after the end of the last stipulated race will not affect bet settlement.
- If you place a bet with respect to any motorsport event, race, session, lap or heat (as applicable) that is restarted, your bet will be settled in accordance with the result provided following the restart of such event, race, session, lap or heat (as applicable). The foregoing will not apply to your bet, if such bet's outcome was determinable with certainty prior to the restart and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which was already determined.
- If a driver or rider (as applicable) has participated in either an official practice session or qualification session that is sanctioned by the relevant governing association, body, or organisation for an event or race, such rider or driver (as applicable) will be considered to have taken part in the relevant event or race (as applicable). For the avoidance of all possible doubt, this will apply even if the driver or rider (as applicable) does not actually take part in the race or event (as applicable).
- For bet settlement purposes the race will be deemed to have begun from when the first lap begins or if there is a warm-up lap prior to the first lap, at the beginning of the warm-up lap.

- We will void your bet, in the event you bet on a team's performance in a race and the initial specified number of cars or bikes (as applicable) from such team do not start the relevant race.
- Settlement of bets which relate to the "Safety Car" coming on to the track after the race has begun will not take into account those instances in which the actual race starts behind the "Safety Car".
- Only outcomes following the official start of a race will be included in bets on the First/Next Driver to retire in a race. Any retirements or withdrawals (as applicable) occurring prior to the actual start of the race (including during any warm-up lap) will not be considered for purposes of settlement.
- If there is any change made to the schedule of such motor sport race, qualifying session or event, its location, or any changes relevant to the circuit, your bet will stand and we will settle your bet on such race, qualifying session or event as long as such race or event (as applicable) is held in the same season. If, however, you place your bet after 00:00 CET of the Monday of the week in which the relevant race, session or event was scheduled to take place, and such race, event or session is not held within a week of the relevant date that such race, session or event was scheduled at the time you placed your bet, we will void your bet. In addition, we will void your bet on any motor sport race, qualifying session or event, if it is not held in the same season.

NETBALL

- For your bet to stand, the relevant match has to be completed in full. The foregoing will not apply to your bet if its outcome was determined with certainty and finality prior to the abandonment of the relevant match and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which was already so determined.
- Unless we detail otherwise, any overtime played with respect to a match will count towards the settlement of your bet with respect to such match.
- "Margin Betting" and "Half/Time Full Time" offers are settled according to the outcome following the close of 60 minutes play (any over time will not count). In elimination games, overtime will count with respect to your bet and if the game is still tied after 14 minutes the first team to lead by two points will be settled as the winner.
- With respect to Margin bets, Push Rules apply unless you have the option of a tie to bet on.

- Your bet will stand with regards to player performance, in the event that all the players on which you have the opportunity to place your bet, play during the relevant tournament or match.

PESÄPALLO - ALSO KNOWN AS FINNISH BASEBALL

General Rules

- We will settle your bet on the result which stands after the four scheduled innings have been completed. Any additional play in a game, for example in prolongation periods/supervuoropari will not be taken into account with respect to bet settlement, unless we detail otherwise.

GREYHOUNDS

- Unless we detail otherwise, all individual race markets will be determined according to the official result provided by the judge. Subsequent disqualifications, appeals or amendments to the result will be disregarded.
- Any bets other than Ante Post bets will be voided by us, if the race is abandoned or declared void.
- Unless we detail otherwise, your bet will stand even if there is a change to the scheduled start time of a race which you have bet on.
- Where a race has been declared a no-race and is re-run, all bets will stand for the Greyhounds that take part in the re-run, unless there is a non runner, in which case all bets will be settled as in accordance with Tattersalls Rule 4 (c) Greyhounds Deductions.

Tattersalls Rule 4 (c) Greyhounds Deductions

- If a greyhound is withdrawn and does not come under starter's orders, a non runner, or is officially deemed by the starter to have taken no part in the race we will apply Tattersalls Rule 4 (c) Greyhounds Deductions.
- Tattersalls Rule 4 (c) Greyhound Deductions are made when a greyhound is withdrawn from a race because it becomes easier for the other runners to win - each greyhound in the race will have one less to beat so it is more likely that it will win. Therefore an amount of money is taken out of winnings to balance the effect of the withdrawn runner. The amount that is deducted from winnings is determined by the Early Price Board Price or Show price that applies to the relevant greyhound which is withdrawn from the race.
- If the decimal format in the table below is not covered by its fractional equivalent, we shall use the deduction based on the decimal format.
- Deductions on the greyhounds which are still to race are as follows:

| Decimal Odds | Fractional Odds | Deduction as a Percentage of Winnings |
|---------------------|------------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| 1.12 or shorter     | 1/9 or shorter         | 90                                           |

HORSE RACING

- For horse racing related bets which are not detailed in this Horse Racing Section, the rules which will govern the settlement of your bets are that of the Tattersalls Rules of Betting which can be found here - <http://www.tattersallscommittee.co.uk/>.
- Unless we detail otherwise, all individual race markets will be determined according to the official result at the time of the "weigh-in" announcement. Subsequent disqualifications, appeals or amendments to the result will be disregarded for the purposes of bet settlement.

- Unless we detail otherwise, your bet will stand even if there is a change to the scheduled start time of a race which you have bet on.
- We will void single and multiple bets if the horse you bet on is announced as a non-runner prior to the race. However, for any bet other than an Ante Post bet (see below for further explanation of this bet type), your bet will stand if the horse you bet on comes under starters orders, but doesn't race (including for stalls starts, where the horse is left in the stalls) or tape starts, where the tape is lifted and the horse doesn't go with the field).
- Any bets other than Ante Post bets will be voided by us, if the race is abandoned or declared void by the meeting organisers. If the race is postponed and raced on a different day and the final Declarations stand, all bets will stand providing the venue is not changed, otherwise we shall void your bet.
- Where a race has been declared a no-race and is re-run, all bets will stand for the horses that take part in the re-run. Prices laid on a no-race will stand for the re-run race unless there is a non runner, in which case all bets will be settled as in accordance with Tattersalls Rule 4 (c) Deductions as detailed below.
- In the event of any incident, including without limitation, a horse false starting which results in a race being re-run, the race is not considered to be 'under starters orders' and stakes will be refunded on selections not taking part in the re-run with any returns on the remaining selections being subject to Tattersalls Rule 4 (c) Deductions as detailed below. The number of runners taking part in the re-run governs the Place Only bet terms as detailed below. Ante Post rules below apply to Ante Post bets.
- We deem Walkovers and void races as races run, but any selection involved will be treated as a non-runner and we will void your bet. 'Walkover' means when only one horse takes part in the race.
- International Horse Racing: For horse races which are not run in the United Kingdom, the Republic of Ireland or the United States of America the rules in this Horse Racing Section shall apply. However the following rules shall take precedence (in case of any conflict with the remainder of the rules in this Horse Racing Section): (i) we will use the results published by the relevant local horse racing authority on the day of the relevant race to settle your bet. Such settlement of your bet will also be subject to any change in the result after any ruling by stewards on the day of the race and any other rules of the relevant local horse racing authority which are applicable; and (ii) if an industry Starting Price (SP) is available, your bet will be settled in accordance with this price, however this will not apply to bets taken at Early Prices (EP) and in such case your bet will be settled at the relevant Early Price. If no industry Starting Price is available, your bet will be settled at the relevant Pari-Mutuel/Tote odds.

- USA Horse Racing: For horse races run in the United States of America, the rules in this Horse Racing Section shall apply. However the following rules shall take precedence in case of any conflict with the remainder of the rules in this Horse Racing Section): (i) we will use the results published by the relevant local horse racing authority on the day of the relevant race to settle your bet. Such settlement will also be subject to any change in the result after any ruling by stewards on the day of the race and any other rules of the relevant local horse racing authority which are applicable; (ii) any change to the relevant race's running surface, will not result in us voiding your bet; (iii) Forecast and Tricast (as applicable) dividends will be based on UK bookmaker industry returns. Local US Pari-Mutuel/Tote dividends will be used in all cases where dividends are not based on UK bookmaker industry returns; (iv) we will settle your bet based on the horse's name; (v) The UK bookmaker industry Starting Price (SP) will be used for all bets placed at SP where no UK bookmaker industry SP is available, we will use Local Pari-Mutuel/US Tote dividends to settle your bet. We will void your bet if neither of the following are available: the UK bookmaker industry SP or Pari-Mutuel/Local US Tote dividends.

horse has taken the wrong course or is carrying the wrong weight it will be ignored and the aggregate winning distance will then be calculated between the first two runners past the post who have taken the correct course and are carrying the correct weight.

2. The following numerical values will apply: Nose = 0.05 of a length, Short Head = 0.1 of a length, Head = 0.2 of a length, Neck = 0.3 of a length, Half a length = 0.5 of a length; Three Quarters = 0.75 of a length.
3. The maximum distance for any one race is 12 lengths for a Flat Race and 30 lengths for a National Hunt race. So by way of example only, if in a National Hunt race the first horse beats the second horse by 32 lengths, we will deem the winning distance as 30 lengths.

Horse Winning

1. Bets are placed on a listed horse's winning distance in one race meeting.
2. We will void your bet in the event of a Walkover or if the race meeting organisers do not declare a result with respect to the race.
3. You will lose your bet, if the horse which you have bet on does not run in the relevant race.

Meeting Winning

1. Bets are placed on the aggregate of the winning distances from one race meeting.
2. If at least one race is abandoned or declared void by the race meeting organisers all bets will be voided by us. The foregoing will not apply to any bet, for which the outcome has been irrevocably determined prior to the abandonment of the relevant race and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.
3. The following will be added to the total distance in the event of a Walkover or if the race is declared void by the meeting organisers: Flat Racing - 5 lengths; National Hunt Racing - 12 lengths.

| Each Way and Win | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. A Win bet is a single stake on your chosen selection winning the race. An Each Way option may also be available for you to bet on. An Each Way bet consists of two parts, the Win part and the Place part. Each part is an equal stake, i.e. 20 Euros Each Way bet will cost a total of 40 Euros. When you are placing this type of bet you are betting on your selection to either Win or be Placed within the payout terms.</li> <li>2. If your selection wins, both the Win and Place parts of your bet will pay out however if your selection is placed, i.e. comes second, then only the Place part only of your stake is used to calculate your winnings at the place terms (for example i.e. 1/4 for the first four places). In such circumstance the Win part of your bet is lost.</li> <li>3. Each Way bets are governed by the Starting Price Place betting terms. This means that the Place part of your bet will be determined by the number of horses coming 'under starter's orders' and not by the number of declared runners when your bet was accepted.</li> <li>4. ### Tattersalls Rule 4 (c) Deductions

- If a horse is withdrawn and does not come under starter's orders, a non runner or is officially deemed by the starter to have taken no part in the race we will apply Tattersall's Rule 4 (c).
- Tattersalls Rule 4 (c) Deductions are made when a horse is withdrawn from a race because it becomes easier for the other runners to win - each horse in the race will have one less to beat so it is more likely that it will win. Therefore an amount of money is taken out of winnings to balance the effect of the withdrawn runner. The amount that is deducted from winnings is determined by Early Price, Board Price or Show price that applies to the relevant horse which is withdrawn from the race.
- If the decimal format in the table below is not covered by its fractional equivalent, we shall use the deduction based on the decimal format.

- With respect to bets based on Early Prices - the deduction will be applied to the odds of the withdrawn horse at the time you placed your bet.
- Deductions on the horses which are still to race are as follows:

| Decimal Odds | Fractional Odds | Deduction as a Percentage of Winnings |
|---------------------|------------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| 1.12 or shorter     | 1/9 or shorter         | 90                                           |
| 1.13 to 1.19        | 1/8 - 2/11             | 85                                           |

Place Only Tattersalls Rule 4 (c) Deductions

- These deductions will be based on the Place Only odds at the time of the horse's withdrawal.

- In the event that the decimal options are not covered by their fractional equivalent below, we shall apply Place Only Tattersalls Rule 4 (c) Deductions based on the decimal column below.
- Deductions are as follows:

| Decimal Odds | Fractional Odds | Deduction as a Percentage of Winnings– For second place | Deduction as a Percentage of Winnings– For third place | Deduction as a Percentage of Winnings– For fourth place |

TROTting

- In the event of a tie the Dead Heat Rule applies to all bets.
- Your bet refers to the listed race or meeting (as applicable) which you have bet on.
- The bullet point above will not apply and we will void your bet, in the event that the listed race or meeting (as applicable), is not held or completed on the date it is scheduled to be held, if such bet is placed following 00:00 CET of the scheduled day. However, your bet will stand, if you place the bet prior to 00:00 CET on the scheduled day as long as the race or meeting (as applicable) is held in the same calendar year as the scheduled day.
- Your bet will still stand even in the event that there is any inaccuracy in the published information on the Site or any other material provided by us regarding the race, including without limitation an error in the race distance, race name, race number, start numbers or how the race is to start, provided that all the horses on which you have the opportunity to bet on, take part in the relevant race or meeting (as applicable).

RUGBY – BOTH RUGBY UNION AND RUGBY LEAGUE

Rules which Apply for Rugby Union and Rugby League

- Your bet will continue to stand if there is a change of venue.
- Unless we detail otherwise, if your bet relates to the performance of one player or more, for your bet to stand, all the players on which you have the opportunity to place your bet, must start from the beginning of the match for your bet to stand.
- We will settle your player-related bets in a match, event or tournament (as applicable) based on the result after any overtime or extra time (as applicable), unless otherwise detailed by us.
- The Dead Heat Rule will apply in the event that we offer bets on certain competitions or events which relate to a predefined period or match (as applicable) where the potential outcome may be a draw at the end of regular play or after any overtime played. We will detail if the Dead Heat Rule applies with respect to the relevant offer.

Additional Rugby League Rules

- The settlement of your bet is based on the outcome of any regular time as well as any overtime played, or (if applicable) on any sudden death overtime played which is also known as the Golden Point Rule, unless we detail otherwise.
- If you place a bet with respect to any Margin Bet or any Half Time or Full Time Bet, we will settle your bet with the result at the end of regular time (80 min play) at the end of the match (i.e. overtime or Golden Point Rule does not count).
- With respect to Margin bets, Push Rules apply unless you have the option of a tie to bet on.
- If you place a bet with respect of any try scorer, whether with respect to the first player to score a try, last player to score a try, when is a try to be scored or which team will score a try your bet will stand with respect to a player in the 17 player game day squad for either team even if such player does not participate in the match. Overtime will apply to the settlement of your bet. Your bet will be refunded if the player you bet on is not included in the 17 player game day squad.

Additional Rugby Union Rules

- Unless otherwise detailed by us, all bets are settled with respect to match or team performances in accordance with the result at the end of regular time (80 min play) of the match.
- If you place a bet with respect of any try scorer, whether with respect to the first player to score a try, last player to score a try, when is a try to be scored or which team will score a try your bet will stand with respect to a player in the 22 player game day squad for either team even if such player does not participate in the match. Overtime will apply to the settlement of your bet. Your bet will be refunded if the player you bet on is not included in the 22 player game day squad.

SNOOKER

- We will void your bet, if the relevant match is not played within the relevant tournament.
- With regards to any other offer not detailed below, for your bet not to be voided by us at least one frame has to be completed. The foregoing will not apply to any outcome which has been irrevocably determined prior to the relevant match being abandoned and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.

SPEEDWAY

- Your bet will be settled on the official result announced by the relevant governing association, body or organisation following the conclusion of the final scheduled heat, regardless of any subsequent promotions, demotions, appeals or penalties that are imposed after the end of the event to which the bet refers.
- If you bet on a heat, for your bet to stand, such heat must be completed and all the riders or drivers (as applicable) on which you have the opportunity to place your bet, must take part in the heat.
- For your bet to stand, all the scheduled heats must be completed in full. If all the heats are not completed in full, we will void your bet, other than to the extent that your bet has been irrevocably determined prior to the abandonment of the relevant heat, in which case we will settle your bet with respect to the relevant outcome or result which has been determined. The Push Rules apply other than where you have the option to bet on a tie.

SURFING

- All bets stand, unless the relevant competition is cancelled by the official governing association, body or organisation (as applicable). If there is any postponement or change of venue, the event must be held within the officially declared waiting period, in order for your bet to stand.
- If you place a Matchup bet, all the surfers on which you have the opportunity to place your bet, must start with respect to the heat or event as applicable, for your bet to stand.
- We will inform you whether the Dead Head Rule applies with the relevant offer.

SWIMMING

- The first official result provided by the relevant governing association, body or organisation (as applicable) after the relevant heat or the final stage of the competition will be used to settle your bet, unless we detail otherwise.

- Despite the bullet point above, we will settle or resettle (as applicable) your bet your bet in the event that the relevant governing body, association or organization (as applicable) alters its original official result within 24 hours following the relevant heat or the final stage of the competition (as applicable). Such change to the original official result must be attributable to incidents which have occurred during the relevant race or event.
- For the avoidance of doubt, following such 24-hour period, the official result in force at such time will be considered as the final and binding result.
- With respect to settling your bet, if a swimmer false starts and is disqualified such swimmer is deemed to have taken part in the race.
- Head To Head Bets: If you place a bet relating to one or more participant/participants' performance in a relevant race or event (as applicable), such bet will stand as long as all the participant(s) (as applicable) which you have the opportunity to bet on, participate from the start of the relevant match or competition (as applicable), unless one of such swimmers qualifies for a later stage of the competition. Dead Heat Rule applies in the event of a tie.

TENNIS, BADMINTON, RACKLETON, SQUASH AND TABLE TENNIS

- Your bet will stand as long as the relevant related bet or match is played in the applicable tournament. No change in circumstances such as in the conditions or venue will apply, unless other arrangements have been agreed.
- The match which you bet on, will be deemed to have begun with the first serve which counts towards a point in the match. If a player retires or is disqualified (as applicable), all bets on the match will be void. The foregoing will not apply to any bet, for which the outcome has been irrevocably determined prior to the retirement or disqualification (as applicable) and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.
- With respect to any doubles match, if one of the scheduled players is replaced, we will void your bet.

- Other than with respect to a Correct Score bet, Odd/Even bet, Over/Under and Handicap bet, one set must be completed for your bet to stand other than with respect to a bet for which the outcome has been irrevocably determined prior to the first set being completed and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.
- We will void your bet with respect to any Davis Cup match if the format of such match is not the best of five sets, unless we detail otherwise.
- In the event you place a Handicap bet and the match which you bet on is determined by a tie break, such tie break will only count as one game. For example, after two sets, the score is 6-4 4-6. Player A wins the tie break 10-8. For settlement purposes Player A's total will be 11 games and Player B would be 10.
- With regards to betting on the Davis cup. Where a match turns to a "dead rubber" and involves different players than originally announced, your bet will be void. If the match is played with the original pairing(s) then bets will stand.

VOLLEYBALL

- If a Golden Set is played, any points accumulated in such Golden Set will not count towards settlement of your bet.
- The bullet point above, will not apply if you bet on tournament progression and Tournament Totals and in such case, points accumulated in such Golden Set will not count towards settlement of your bet.
- Unless we detail otherwise, any overtime played in any match or tournament (as applicable) will count with respect to all bets, unless otherwise stated by us.
- For any bet which relates to Volleyball which is not detailed in this section, for your bet to stand, at least one set of the scheduled sets in the match has to be completed in full. If the match is abandoned, after the match has begun but prior to the first set being completed in full, we will settle your bet with respect to any outcome that has been irrevocably determined prior to the abandonment of the relevant match and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.

WINTER SPORTS

This section applies to: (i) Alpine Skiing; (ii) Biathlon; (iii) Bobsleigh; (iv) Cross Country Skiing; (v) Freestyle; (vi) Luge; (vii) Nordic Combined; (viii) Skating; Short Track; (ix) Ski Jumping; (x) Snowboarding; and (xi) Speed Skating.

- In the event that the originally stated format of the event is completely altered (for example the distance of the event is changed or the height of the ski slope) we will void your bet.

- If you bet on an event which is abandoned, we will settle your bet with respect to any outcome that has been irrevocably determined prior to the abandonment of the relevant event and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.
- If the relevant association, body or organisation with respect to the relevant sport announces a result for an event, such result will be used by us to settle your bet including without limitation if the relevant event is shortened or moved to a different venue or slope.
- Where betting is offered on individual events (not tournament outright winner), the event always references the next event in the calendar in the relevant sports calendar. If the event does not take place under the same rules as the original event scheduled, then all bets on such event are void. If event doesn't take place within 72 hours of the original scheduled time then all bets on such event are void.

NOVELTY, TV AND POLITICS BETS

- With respect to Novelty, TV and Politics related bets we accept such bets on Politics, Movies, TV programmes, Music Entertainment and sports novelties (for example player transfers and manager moves).
- We will void your bet, if we accept your bet, after the relevant event has taken place or where you are aware of the outcome prior to such outcome occurring.
- Should a participant of a TV show take a decision to leave of their own accord will or be withdrawn by producers for any reason, your bet on such participant will be settled as a losing bet.
- If one or more winners are announced, we reserve the right to apply deductions in accordance with Rule 4 (Non Horse Racing and Non Greyhounds) to all bets placed with respect to such winners.
- Should a novelty event be cancelled for any reason, all bets will be void unless the outcome was already irrevocably determined prior to such cancellation and your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined.
- For bets on the Eurovision Song Contest- Most Votes' results are not released until after the final. Bets will be settled when official figures are released.
- Bets on player transfers will stand only if that player signs a contract with the new club. Loan deals do not count.
- With regards to bets placed on manager changes/moves. Joint managers will be settled under the Dead Heat Rule. Any bets inadvertently accepted after a change/move has already happened will be void.
- All bets on novelties are settled on the first known result published by the producers or by the official governing association, body or organisation. Any changes to the first result published will not be considered for bet settlement purposes.
- Any conflict between the rules published as part of the offer on the Site will take precedence over these rules.
- Our decision on settlement of novelty bets is final.

- For Politics, should the result be officially contested, results of all markets will be settled on the official winner that is determined either by eventual concession or as per a decision by Congress and/or the Supreme Court.

eSports Rules

- We offer betting on exciting eSports games.
- These rules will apply to any eSports event that we offer bets on.
- Where the same two players or teams playing multiple games or maps with respect to an event (e.g. best of three), and one or more games or maps are not played because the result of the event has already been determined, we will void your bet on any unplayed games or maps.
- The dates and start times for events with respect to eSports events are solely provided by us for informational purposes only and may not be accurate, up to date or error free.
- We will void your bet, if an event is cancelled, interrupted or postponed and is not completed. The foregoing will not apply if the relevant event which has been cancelled, interrupted or postponed is completed within 48 hours of the displayed start time on the Site (this will apply to you, if any additional games or additional maps that were supposed to be part of the same matchup are cancelled or further postponed).
- Settlement of your bet: Unless otherwise stated in these rules: (i) We will settle your bet based on the official broadcast of the game by the publisher of such game or event organizer (as applicable). (ii) If there is a counter of rounds won, kills, dragons, towers etc. with respect to the broadcast we will generally use this to settle your bet. (iii) We will use statistics API for the game where available to settle your bet, if there is no broadcast. (iv) We will use statistics API for the game where available to settle your bet, in the event that the result with respect to settlement of your bet is uncertain.
- In the case of indexed or numbered markets (such as the winner of a specific round in Counter Strike: GO, or the team to score a numbered kill in League of Legends or DOTA2), the index determines the objective that counts.

- In the event that the scheduled number of rounds or maps is changed, or if markets are erroneously offered based on a different number of rounds or maps from the actually scheduled number, then bets on the winning margin (including a Handicap bet), total rounds / maps, correct scores etc. then we will void your bet. The foregoing will not apply if you bet on the Map Winner and Match Up Winner.
- We will void your bet on the relevant map and on the matchup, in the event that any map is not played or is awarded to one player or team (as applicable) by Walk Over or default without play having commenced. The foregoing will not apply, if you place a bet which relates only to maps your bet will stand.
- A map is deemed to have started, as soon as the game clock starts or either team or player (as applicable) takes any game action relating to that map, including without limitation picks, bans or makes purchases of any kind in the game. In the event that a map has to be remade due to a technical glitch or bug bets placed after the start of the map will be made void unless the result has already been determined, bets placed before the map has started will stand. If maps are subject to a pause but restart as planned bets will stand.
- Surrender: Where one team or player (as applicable) surrenders, your bet will not be voided by us and will be settled in the following manner: (i) For bets involving the map/match winner, the winning team is the team or player (as applicable) that did not surrender. (ii) For any other bet which you place, we will settle such bet based on what has happened up until the point of surrender. (iii) If you bet on any outcome has been irrevocably determined prior to the surrender, your bet will be settled in accordance with the relevant outcome which has been irrevocably determined. (iv) We will void any other bet which you place.
- Words such as "next" in the market name are not guaranteed to be correct, as broadcasts may be delayed, and we may not always advance the index precisely when an objective is scored or a round completed. All bets are therefore settled on the numbered round or objective specified, regardless of any other wording in the market name or its timing in relation to when the bet was placed.
